BRAZIL'S MILEI DECLINES INVITATION FROM MEMBER COUNTRIES

BRICS to grow as Saudi, Iran, UAE and 2 others join ranks

New members to be part of January 30 sherpa meeting

ANA MONTEIRO
December 29

MEMBERSHIP OF THE BRICS group of emerging-market nations is set to double, with Saudi Arabia, Iran, the United Arab Emirates, Ethiopia and Egypt to join its ranks on January 1, South Africa's envoy to the bloc said.

Current members Brazil, Russia, India, China and South Africa in August invited six other nations to become part of their group, pairing some of the planet's largest energy producers with some of the biggest consumers among developing countries. Only Argentina declined the invitation after President Javier Milei, who took office this month, reversed his predecessor's membership bid.

The five invitees sent senior-level representatives to a BRICS sherpa meeting in Durban, South Africa, earlier this month and they fully participated in the gathering, "a clear indication that they have accepted the invitation" to join, Anil Sooklal, Pretoria's ambassador to the bloc, said in an interview Friday. The new members will also send officials to a sherpa meeting in Moscow on Jan. 30, he said.

"BRIC" was coined in 2001 by economist Jim O'Neill, then

at Goldman Sachs Group Inc., to draw attention to strong economic growth rates in Brazil, Russia, India and China. The term was intended as an optimistic scenario for investors amid market pessimism following the terrorist attacks in the US on Sept. 11

that year. The group held its first leaders' summit in 2009 and invited South Africa to join a year later, adding another continent and the letter "S."

About 30 countries want to establish ties with the bloc, Russian Foreign Affairs Minister Sergey Lavrov was cited by news agency Tass as saying this week. Nigeria, Africa's most populous nation, will seek to become a member of BRICS within the next two years, Minister of Foreign Affairs Yusuf Tuggar said in November.

Except for India, the BRICS have underperformed their emerging-market peers over the last five years, according to Bloomberg Intelligence. US-led sanctions have put Russia off limits for many foreign investors, and some sectors in China — especially technology companies — have also been sanctioned or face potential investment bans.

FROM THE FRONT PAGE

Bulls may stay in the ring

WITH THE INTERNATIONAL Monetary Fund terming India as 'one of the star performers' which will contribute more than 16% to global growth, the interest in the Indian economy will only rise.

Sharma points out structurally, India is one of the few countries with sound macros and corporate earnings, while most developed nations continue to be weighed down by weak macros. "And when there are expectations that there will be a bull market in the US, we should also do well," he says.

Of course, there could be some key events that could cloud this optimistic outlook. Naren, for example, says apart from the general election in India, markets will be watching out for the US Fed rate cut trajectory, geopolitical developments and crude oil prices, to name a few. While general elections are always a cause for worry, most experts are reading signals of continuity and stability after the good performance of the Bhartiya Janata Party in the recent state elections.

Sharma says while elections are a key event, people would be watching keenly whether the government continues to spend aggressively after elections as well.

While the overall outlook towards 2024 looks quite bright, some fund managers point at the "worrisome" rise in the retail participation in the future and options market. In the past three consecutive years, F&O turnover has risen by over 100% — the highest was in 2021 at 186% — reflecting that there has been aggressive participation from retail investors. This is also reflected in the rise in the number of online courses and influencers who are trying to make a quick buck by exploiting investors. However, most of them also believe that there is little to be done as the markets have to run their own course.

BRAZIL'S MILEI DECLINES INVITATION FROM MEMBER COUNTRIES

BRICS to grow as Saudi, Iran, UAE and 2 others join ranks

New members to be part of January 30 sherpa meeting

ANA MONTEIRO
December 29

MEMBERSHIP OF THE BRICS group of emerging-market nations is set to double, with Saudi Arabia, Iran, the United Arab Emirates, Ethiopia and Egypt to join its ranks on January 1, South Africa's envoy to the bloc said.

Current members Brazil, Russia, India, China and South Africa in August invited six other nations to become part of their group, pairing some of the planet's largest energy producers with some of the biggest consumers among developing countries. Only Argentina declined the invitation after President Javier Milei, who took office this month, reversed his predecessor's membership bid.

The five invitees sent senior-level representatives to a BRICS sherpa meeting in Durban, South Africa, earlier this month and they fully participated in the gathering, "a clear indication that they have accepted the invitation" to join, Anil Sooklal, Pretoria's ambassador to the bloc, said in an interview Friday. The new members will also send officials to a sherpa meeting in Moscow on Jan. 30, he said. "BRIC" was coined in 2001 by economist Jim O'Neill, then

at Goldman Sachs Group Inc., to draw attention to strong economic growth rates in Brazil, Russia, India and China. The term was intended as an optimistic scenario for investors amid market pessimism following the terrorist attacks in the US on Sept. 11

BLOOMBERG

FROM THE FRONT PAGE Bulls may stay in the ring

WITH THE INTERNATIONAL Monetary Fund terming India as 'one of the star performers' which will contribute more than 1.6% to global growth, the interest in the Indian economy will only rise. Sharma points out structurally, India is one of the few countries with sound macros and corporate earnings, while most developed nations continue to be weighed down by weak macros. "And when there are expectations that there will be a bull market in the US, we should also do well," he says.

Of course, there could be some key events that could cloud this optimistic outlook. Naren, for example, says apart from the general election in India, markets will be watching out for the US Fed rate cut trajectory, geopolitical developments and crude oil prices, to name a few. While general elections are always a cause for worry, most experts are reading signals of continuity and stability after the good performance of the Bhartiya Janata Party in the recent state elections. Sharma says while elections are a key event, people would be watching keenly whether the government continues to spend aggressively after elections as well. While the overall outlook towards 2024 looks quite bright, some fund managers point at the "worrysome" rise in the retail participation in the future and options market. In the past three consecutive years, F&O turnover has risen by over 100% — the highest was in 2021 at 186% — reflecting that there has been aggressive participation from retail investors. This is also reflected in the rise in the number of online courses and influencers who are trying to make a quick buck by exploiting investors. However, most of them also believe that there is little to be done as the markets have to run their own course.

The full format of the standalone and consolidated Financial Results for the quarter and half year ended 30 September, 2023 are available on the Stock Exchange websites (www.nseindia.com and www.bseindia.com) and Company's website (www.parsvnath.com).

The Company has executed flat / plot sale agreements with the customers against which the Company has also received advances. Revenue in respect of such sale agreements will get recognised in future years on completion of projects. Based on these sale agreements, the Company has certainty as on the date of the balance sheet, that there will be sufficient taxable income available to realise such assets in the near future. Accordingly, the Company has created deferred tax assets on its carried forward unabsorbed depreciation and business losses. The company is also planning to sell some of its identified assets.
- The Company has incurred cash losses during the current and previous periods/year. Due to recession in the past in the real estate sector owing to slowdown in demand, the company faced lack of adequate sources of finance to fund execution and completion of its ongoing projects resulting in delayed realisation from its customers. The company is facing tight liquidity situation as a result of which there have been delays/default in payment to lenders, statutory liabilities, salaries to employees and other dues. However, considering substantial improvement in real estate sector recently, the Management is of the opinion that all such issues will be resolved in due course by required finance through alternate sources, including sale of non-core assets.
- Figures for the previous quarter / period have been regrouped, wherever necessary, for the purpose of comparison.

Indian, Hong Kong customs unearth money laundering case, says finmin

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, December 29

THE INDIAN AND Hong Kong Customs have unearthed a major case of Trade-Based Money Laundering (TBML) involving Hong Kong-based exporters and Indian importers located in a Special Economic Zone (SEZ), the finance ministry said on Friday. In an exemplary case of bilateral cooperation and exchange of information, this crackdown shows cases investigation and enforcement actions taken by both administrations under their respective laws to expose an international cartel.

DRI has unearthed a case of Trade-Based Money Laundering from a SEZ, wherein cheap synthetic diamonds were being imported into India in the guise of natural diamonds, to remit foreign currency of India. Investigations revealed that cheap synthetic diamonds were being misdeclared as natural diamonds and overvalued more than 100 times and being imported from firms based in Hong Kong to SEZ in India.

During the investigation, it was also observed that some real diamonds were imported but replaced with synthetic diamonds and smuggled outside the SEZ, it said. Investigations also indicated that the inflow of money into importing entity's bank account took place through bank transactions by various dummy firms in India and then the said money was transferred (laundered) from this single bank account to overseas suppliers in Hong Kong; under the pretext of payment towards import of 'diamonds'.

The gathered evidence also indicates that the mastermind of this trade-based money laundering was based in Hong Kong, it added.

Wipro seeks ₹25 crore in damages from Dalal

IN THE SIGNED acceptance of the employment offer from Cognizant, which has been filed with the US SEC, Dalal has said, "I hereby represent and warrant to Cognizant that (I) I am entering into this agreement voluntarily and that the performance of my duties and responsibilities hereunder will not violate any agreement between me and any other person, firm, organisation, or other entity."

The letter adds, "(II) I am not bound by the terms of any agreement with any previous employer or other parties to refrain from competing, directly or indirectly, with the business of such previous employer or other party, in any case, that would be violated by my entering into this agreement and/or providing services to Cognizant pursuant to the terms hereof, and (III) I have read, understand and accept the above offer of employment and agree to the terms and conditions set forth above." In the case filed by Wipro, Dalal has submitted an application seeking that the court to refer the matter for arbitration. Both parties have presented their arguments, and the next hearing has been scheduled for January 3.

Dalal worked with Wipro for over 21 years and served as its CFO since 2015.

Govt cracks down on offshore gaming apps

THE BLOCKING OF the overseas gaming websites and platforms in India is in line with this stance. According to the government, while responsibility of paying tax can be passed to online gaming companies located abroad, if they also fail to do so, then, it would amount to transgressing the law. The regulation of foreign platforms will be undertaken through the ministry of electronics and information technology (MeitY).

On December 5, minister of state for finance Pankaj Chaudhary had said that no overseas online gaming company had registered in India since October. Chaudhary had also mentioned that till October, 71 show cause notices involving GST to the tune of ₹1.12 trillion have been issued to online gaming companies during FY23 and FY24 (April-October).

Experts say that measures like blocking of websites/apps are being used by the government to compel the offshore entities to comply with domestic laws.

"The effectiveness of this approach might be contingent on cooperation from platform owners who host these online gaming applications. The government should aim to make these platform owners aware of default and prevent access to apps from companies that do not comply with GST laws," said Ankur Gupta, practice leader - indirect tax at SW India. Sandeep Sehgal, partner - Tax, AKM Global, however notes that some offshore companies may be working on a B2B model, but the GST department could be of the view that the compliance is applicable on those offshore companies as well. Under the B2B model, GST is paid through a reverse charge mechanism by recipient of the online gaming service.

Demand for luxury housing cements realtors' hope

VISWA PRATHAP DESU, chief operating officer — residential, Brigade Enterprises, said, "We anticipate luxury residential sales to be the focal point in 2024, with a growing demand for larger homes in expansive integrated enclaves. Our upcoming launches will primarily align with this trend."

While Brigade will continue to have launches in Bangalore, it is also planning luxury offerings in Chennai and Hyderabad, he said. "Additionally, we are dedicated to enhancing the sustainability quotient in our projects, recognizing its increasing significance in the years to come," Desu said.

Swaroop Anish, executive director — business development, Prestige Estates Projects, said they expect prices to strengthen 5-7% for under construction options and ready property even 10-12% as there are shortage of quality options. Anish said they would be enhancing their sales numbers with the numerous launches planned.

BRAZIL'S MILEI DECLINES INVITATION FROM MEMBER COUNTRIES

BRICS to grow as Saudi, Iran, UAE and 2 others join ranks

New members to be part of January 30 sherpa meeting

ANA MONTEIRO December 29

MEMBERSHIP OF THE BRICS group of emerging-market nations is set to double, with Saudi Arabia, Iran, the United Arab Emirates, Ethiopia and Egypt to join its ranks on January 1, South Africa's envoy to the bloc said.

Current members Brazil, Russia, India, China and South Africa in August invited six other nations to become part of their group, pairing some of the planet's largest energy producers with some of the biggest consumers among developing countries. Only Argentina declined the invitation after President Javier Milei, who took office this month, reversed his predecessor's membership bid.

The five invitees sent senior-level representatives to a BRICS sherpa meeting in Durban, South Africa, earlier this month and they fully participated in the gathering, "a clear indication that they have accepted the invitation" to join, Anil Sooklal, Pretoria's ambassador to the bloc, said in an interview Friday. The new members will also send officials to a sherpa meeting in Moscow on Jan. 30, he said.

"BRIC" was coined in 2001 by economist Jim O'Neill, then

at Goldman Sachs Group Inc., to draw attention to strong economic growth rates in Brazil, Russia, India and China. The term was intended as an optimistic scenario for investors amid market pessimism following the terrorist attacks in the US on Sept. 11

that year. The group held its first leaders' summit in 2009 and invited South Africa to join a year later, adding another continent and the letter "S."

About 30 countries want to establish ties with the bloc, Russian Foreign Affairs Minister Sergey Lavrov was cited by news agency Tass as saying this week. Nigeria, Africa's most populous nation, will seek to become a member of BRICS within the next two years, Minister of Foreign Affairs Yusuf Tuggar said in November.

Except for India, the BRICS have underperformed their emerging-market peers over the last five years, according to Bloomberg Intelligence. US-led sanctions have put Russia off limits for many foreign investors, and some sectors in China — especially technology companies — have also been sanctioned or face potential investment bans.

Govt cracks down on offshore gaming apps

THE BLOCKING OF the overseas gaming websites and platforms in India is in line with this stance. According to the government, while responsibility of paying tax can be passed to online gaming companies located abroad, if they also fail to do so, then, it would amount to transgressing the law. The regulation of foreign platforms will be undertaken through the ministry of electronics and information technology (MeitY).

On December 5, minister of state for finance Pankaj Chaudhary had said that no overseas online gaming company had registered in India since October. Chaudhary had also mentioned that till October, 71 show cause notices involving GST to the tune of ₹1.12 trillion have been issued to online gaming companies during FY23 and FY24 (April-October). Experts say that measures like blocking of websites/apps are being used by the government to compel the offshore entities to comply with domestic laws.

Indian, Hong Kong customs unearth money laundering case, says finmin

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, December 29

THE INDIAN AND Hong Kong Customs have unearthed a major case of Trade-Based Money Laundering (TBML) involving Hong Kong-based exporters and Indian importers located in a Special Economic Zone (SEZ), the finance ministry said on Friday. In an exemplary case of bilateral cooperation and exchange of information, this crackdown shows cases investigation and enforcement actions taken by both administrations under their respective laws to expose an international cartel.

DRI had unearthed a case of Trade-Based Money Laundering from a SEZ, wherein cheap synthetic diamonds were being imported into India in the guise of natural diamonds, to remit foreign currency out of India.

Investigations revealed that cheap synthetic diamonds were being mis-declared as natural diamonds and overvalued more than 100 times and being imported from firms based in Hong Kong to SEZ in India.

During the investigation, it was also observed that some real diamonds were imported but replaced with synthetic diamonds and smuggled outside the SEZ, it said. Investigations also indicated that the inflow of money into the importing entity's bank account took place through bank transactions by various dummy firms in India and then the said money was transferred (laundered) from this single bank account to overseas suppliers in Hong Kong; under the pretext of payment towards import of 'diamonds'.

The gathered evidence also indicates that the mastermind of this trade-based money laundering was based in Hong Kong, it added.

Probe showed cheap synthetic diamonds were being mis-declared as natural diamonds and overvalued more than 100 times and being imported from Hong Kong to India

This is also reflected in the rise in the number of online courses and influencers who are trying to make a quick buck by exploiting investors. However, most of them also believe that there is little to be done as the markets have to turn their own course.

"The effectiveness of this approach might be contingent on cooperation from platform owners who host these online gaming applications. The government should aim to make these platform owners aware of default and prevent access to apps from companies that do not comply with GST laws," said Ankur Gupta, practice leader — indirect tax at SW India. Sandeep Sehgal, partner — Tax, AKM Global, however notes that some offshore companies may be working on a B2B model, but the GST department could be of the view that the compliance is applicable on those offshore companies as well. elections. Sharma says while elections are a key event, people would be watching keenly whether the government continues to spend aggressively after elections as well.

While the overall outlook towards 2024 looks quite bright, some fund managers point at the "worrysome" rise in the retail participation in the future and options market. In the past three consecutive years, F&O turnover has risen by over 100% — the highest was in 2021 at 186% — reflecting that there has been aggressive participation from retail investors. This is also reflected in the rise in the number of online courses and influencers who are trying to make a quick buck by exploiting investors. However, most of them also believe that there is little to be done as the markets have to run their own course.

Indian, Hong Kong customs unearth money laundering case, says finmin

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, December 29

THE INDIAN and Hong Kong Customs have unearthed a major case of Trade-Based Money Laundering (TBML) involving Hong Kong-based exporters and Indian importers located in a Special Economic Zone (SEZ), the finance ministry said on Friday. In an exemplary case of bilateral cooperation and exchange of information, this crack-down shows cases investigation and enforcement actions taken by both administrations under their respective laws to expose an international cartel.

DRI had unearthed a case of Trade-Based Money Laundering from a SEZ, wherein cheap synthetic diamonds were being imported into India in the guise of natural diamonds, to remit foreign currency out of India.

Investigations revealed that cheap synthetic diamonds were being mis-declared as natural diamonds and overvalued more than 100 times and being imported from firms based in Hong Kong to SEZ in India.

During the investigation, it was also observed that some real diamonds were imported but replaced with synthetic diamonds and smuggled outside the SEZ, it said.

Investigations also indicated that the inflow of money into the importing entity's bank account took place through bank transactions by various dummy firms in India and then the said money was transferred (laundered) from this single bank account to overseas suppliers in Hong Kong; under the pretext of payment towards import of 'diamonds'.

The gathered evidence also indicates that the mastermind of this trade-based money laundering was based in Hong Kong, it added.

Wipro seeks ₹25 crore in damages from Dalal

IN THE SIGNED acceptance of the employment offer from Cognizant, which has been filed with the USSEC, Dalal has said, "I hereby represent and warrant to Cognizant that (I) I am entering into this agreement voluntarily and that the performance of my duties and responsibilities hereunder will not violate any agreement between me and any other person, firm, organisation, or other entity."

The letter adds, "(II) I am not bound by the terms of any agreement with any previous employer or other parties to refrain from competing, directly or indirectly, with the business of such previous employer or other party, in any case, that would be violated by my entering into this agreement and/or providing services to Cognizant pursuant to the terms hereof, and (III) I have read, understand and accept the above offer of employment and agree to the terms and conditions set forth above." In the case filed by Wipro, Dalal has submitted an application seeking that the court to refer the matter for arbitration. Both parties have presented their arguments, and the next hearing has been scheduled for January 3.

Dalal worked with Wipro for over 21 years and served as its CFO since 2015.

Govt cracks down on offshore gaming apps

THE BLOCKING OF the overseas gaming websites and platforms in India is in line with this stance. According to the government, while responsibility of paying tax can be passed to online gaming companies located abroad, if they also fail to do so, then, it would amount to transgressing the law. The regulation of foreign platforms will be undertaken through the ministry of electronics and information technology (MeitY).

On December 5, minister of state for finance Pankaj Chaudhary had said that no overseas online gaming company had registered in India since October. Chaudhary had also mentioned that till October, 71 show cause notices involving GST to the tune of ₹1.12 trillion have been issued to online gaming companies during FY23 and FY24 (April-October).

Experts say that measures like blocking of websites/apps are being used by the government to compel the offshore entities to comply with domestic laws.

"The effectiveness of this approach might be contingent on cooperation from platform owners who host these online gaming applications. The government should aim to make these platform owners aware of default and prevent access to apps from companies that do not comply with GST laws," said Ankur Gupta, practice leader - indirect tax at SW India. Sandeep Sehgal, partner - Tax, AKM Global, however notes that some offshore companies may be working on a B2B model, but the GST department could be of the view that the compliance is applicable on those offshore companies as well. Under the B2B model, GST is paid through a reverse charge mechanism by recipient of the online gaming service.

VISWA PRATHAP DESU, chief operating officer - residential, Brigade Enterprises, said, "We anticipate luxury residential sales to be the focal point in 2024, with a growing demand for larger homes in expansive integrated enclaves. Our upcoming launches will primarily align with this trend."

While Brigade will continue to have launches in Bangalore, it is also planning luxury offerings in Chennai and Hyderabad, he said. "Additionally, we are dedicated to enhancing the sustainability quotient in our projects, recognizing its increasing significance in the years to come," Desu said. Swaroop Anish, executive director - business development, Prestige Estates Projects, said they expect prices to strengthen 5-7% for under construction options and ready property even 10-12% as there are shortage of quality options. Anish said they would be enhancing their sales numbers with the numerous launches planned.

BRAZIL'S MILEI DECLINES INVITATION FROM MEMBER COUNTRIES

New members to be part of January 30 sherpa meeting

ANA MONTEIRO December 29

MEMBERSHIP OF THE BRICS group of emerging-market nations is set to double, with Saudi Arabia, Iran, the United Arab Emirates, Ethiopia and Egypt to join its ranks on January 1, South Africa's envoy to the bloc said.

Current members Brazil, Russia, India, China and South Africa in August invited six other nations to become part of their group, pairing some of the planet's largest energy producers with some of the biggest consumers among developing countries. Only Argentina declined the invitation after President Javier Milei, who took office this month, reversed his predecessor's membership bid.

The five invitees sent senior-level representatives to a BRICS sherpa meeting in Durban, South Africa, earlier this month and they fully participated in the gathering, "a clear indication that they have accepted the invitation" to join, Anil Sooklal, Pretoria's ambassador to the bloc, said in an interview Friday. The new members will also send officials to a sherpa meeting in Moscow on Jan. 30, he said.

"BRIC" was coined in 2001 by economist Jim O'Neill, then

at Goldman Sachs Group Inc., to draw attention to strong economic growth rates in Brazil, Russia, India and China. The term was intended as an optimistic scenario for investors amid market pessimism following the terrorist attacks in the US on Sept. 11

that year. The group held its first leaders' summit in 2009 and invited South Africa to join a year later, adding another continent and the letter "S."

About 30 countries want to establish ties with the bloc, Russian Foreign Affairs Minister Sergey Lavrov was cited by news agency Tass as saying this week. Nigeria, Africa's most populous nation, will seek to become a member of BRICS within the next two years, Minister of Foreign Affairs Yusuf Tuggar said in November.

Except for India, the BRICS have underperformed their emerging-market peers over the last five years, according to Bloomberg Intelligence. US-led sanctions have put Russia off limits for many foreign investors, and some sectors in China — especially technology companies — have also been sanctioned or face potential investment bans.

BRAZIL'S MILEI DECLINES INVITATION FROM MEMBER COUNTRIES

BRICS to grow as Saudi, Iran, UAE and 2 others join ranks

New members to be part of January 30 sherpa meeting

ANA MONTEIRO December 29

MEMBERSHIP OF THE BRICS group of emerging-market nations is set to double, with Saudi Arabia, Iran, the United Arab Emirates, Ethiopia and Egypt to join its ranks on January 1, South Africa's envoy to the bloc said.

Current members Brazil, Russia, India, China and South Africa in August invited six other nations to become part of their group, pairing some of the planet's largest energy producers with some of the biggest consumers among developing countries. Only Argentina declined the invitation after President Javier Milei, who took office this month, reversed his predecessor's membership bid.

The five invitees sent senior-level representatives to a BRICS sherpa meeting in Durban, South Africa, earlier this month and they fully participated in the gathering, "a clear indication that they have accepted the invitation" to join, Anil Sooklal, Pretoria's ambassador to the bloc, said in an interview Friday. The new members will also send officials to a sherpa meeting in Moscow on Jan. 30, he said.

"BRIC" was coined in 2001 by economist Jim O'Neill, then

at Goldman Sachs Group Inc., to draw attention to strong economic growth rates in Brazil, Russia, India and China. The term was intended as an optimistic scenario for investors amid market pessimism following the terrorist attacks in the US on Sept. 11

that year. The group held its first leaders' summit in 2009 and invited South Africa to join a year later, adding another continent and the letter "S."

About 30 countries want to establish ties with the bloc, Russian Foreign Affairs Minister Sergey Lavrov was cited by news agency Tass as saying this week. Nigeria, Africa's most populous nation, will seek to become a member of BRICS within the next two years, Minister of Foreign Affairs Yusuf Tuggar said in November.

Except for India, the BRICS have underperformed their emerging-market peers over the last five years, according to Bloomberg Intelligence. US-led sanctions have put Russia off limits for many foreign investors, and some sectors in China — especially technology companies — have also been sanctioned or face potential investment bans.

Bulls may stay in the ring

WITH THE INTERNATIONAL Monetary Fund terming India as 'one of the star performers' which will contribute more than 16% to global growth, the interest in the Indian economy will only rise.

Sharma points out structurally, India is one of the few countries with sound macros and corporate earnings, while most developed nations continue to be weighed down by weak macros. "And when there are expectations that there will be a bull market in the US, we should also do well," he says.

Of course, there could be some key events that could cloud this optimistic outlook. Naren, for example, says apart from the general election in India, markets will be watching out for the US Fed rate cut trajectory, geopolitical developments and crude oil prices, to name a few. While general elections are always a cause for worry, most experts are reading signals of continuity and stability after the good performance of the Bhartiya Janata Party in the recent state elections. Sharma says while elections are a key event, people would be watching keenly whether the government continues to spend aggressively after elections as well.

While the overall outlook towards 2024 looks quite bright, some fund managers point at the "worrisome" rise in the retail participation in the future and options market. In the past three consecutive years, F&O turnover has risen by over 100% — the highest was in 2021 at 186% — reflecting that there has been aggressive participation from retail investors. This is also reflected in the rise in the number of online courses and influencers who are trying to make a quick buck by exploiting investors. However, most of them also believe that there is little to be done as the markets have to run their own course.

Indian, Hong Kong customs unearth money laundering case, says finmin

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, December 29

THE INDIAN AND Hong Kong Customs have unearthed a major case of Trade-Based Money Laundering (TBML) involving Hong Kong-based exporters and Indian importers located in a Special Economic Zone (SEZ), the finance ministry said on Friday. In an exemplary case of bilateral cooperation and exchange of information, this crackdown shows cases investigation and enforcement actions taken by both administrations under their respective laws to expose an international cartel.

DRI had unearthed a case of Trade-Based Money Laundering from a SEZ, wherein cheap synthetic diamonds were being imported into India in the guise of natural diamonds, to remit foreign currency out of India.

Investigations revealed that cheap synthetic diamonds were being mis-declared as natural diamonds and overvalued more than 100 times and being imported from firms based in Hong Kong to SEZ in India.

During the investigation, it was also observed that some real diamonds were imported but replaced with synthetic diamonds and smuggled outside the SEZ, it said.

Investigations also indicated that the inflow of money into the importing entity's bank account took place through bank transactions by various dummy firms in India and then the said money was transferred (laundered) from this single bank account to overseas suppliers in Hong Kong; under the pretext of payment towards import of 'diamonds'.

The gathered evidence also indicates that the mastermind of this trade-based money laundering was based in Hong Kong, it added.

Wipro seeks ₹25 crore in damages from Dalal

IN THE SIGNED acceptance of the employment offer from Cognizant, which has been filed with the USSEC, Dalal has said, "I hereby represent and warrant to Cognizant that (I) I am entering into this agreement voluntarily and that the performance of my duties and responsibilities hereunder will not violate any agreement between me and any other person, firm, organisation, or other entity."

The letter adds, "(II) I am not bound by the terms of any agreement with any previous employer or other parties to refrain from competing, directly or indirectly, with the business of such previous employer or other party, in any case, that would be violated by my entering into this agreement and/or providing services to Cognizant pursuant to the terms hereof, and (III) I have read, understand and accept the above offer of employment and agree to the terms and conditions set forth above." In the case filed by Wipro, Dalal has submitted an application seeking that the court to refer the matter for arbitration. Both parties have presented their arguments, and the next hearing has been scheduled for January 3.

Dalal worked with Wipro for over 21 years and served as its CFO since 2015.

Govt cracks down on offshore gaming apps

THE BLOCKING OF the overseas gaming websites and platforms in India is in line with this stance. According to the government, while responsibility of paying tax can be passed to online gaming companies located abroad, if they also fail to do so, then, it would amount to transgressing the law. The regulation of foreign platforms will be undertaken through the ministry of electronics and information technology (MeitY).

On December 5, minister of state for finance Pankaj Chaudhary had said that no overseas online gaming company had registered in India since October. Chaudhary had also mentioned that till October, 71 show cause notices involving GST to the tune of ₹1.12 trillion have been issued to online gaming companies during FY23 and FY24 (April-October).

Experts say that measures like blocking of websites/apps are being used by the government to compel the offshore entities to comply with domestic laws.

"The effectiveness of this approach might be contingent on cooperation from platform owners who host these online gaming applications. The government should aim to make these platform owners aware of default and prevent access to apps from companies that do not comply with GST laws," said Ankur Gupta, practice leader — indirect tax at SW India. Sandeep Sehgal, partner — Tax, AKM Global, however notes that some offshore companies may be working on a B2B model, but the GST department could be of the view that the compliance is applicable on those offshore companies as well. Under the B2B model, GST is paid through a reverse charge mechanism by recipient of the online gaming service.

THE INDIAN AND Hong Kong Customs have unearthed a major case of Trade-Based Money Laundering (TBML) involving Hong Kong-based exporters and Indian importers located in a Special Economic Zone (SEZ), the finance ministry said on Friday. In an exemplary case of bilateral cooperation and exchange of information, this crackdown shows cases investigation and enforcement actions taken by both administrations under their respective laws to expose an international cartel.

DRI had unearthed a case of Trade-Based Money Laundering from a SEZ, wherein cheap synthetic diamonds were being imported into India in the guise of natural diamonds, to remit foreign currency out of India.

Investigations revealed that cheap synthetic diamonds were being mis-declared as natural diamonds and overvalued more than 100 times and being imported from firms based in Hong Kong to SEZ in India.

During the investigation, it was also observed that some real diamonds were imported but replaced with synthetic diamonds and smuggled outside the SEZ, it said.

Investigations also indicated that the inflow of money into importing entity's bank account took place through bank transactions by various dummy firms in India and then the said money was transferred (laundered) from this single bank account to overseas suppliers in Hong Kong; under the pretext of payment towards import of 'diamonds'.

The gathered evidence also indicates that the mastermind of this trade-based money laundering was based in Hong Kong, it added.

Wipro seeks ₹25 crore in damages from Dalal

IN THE SIGNED acceptance of the employment offer from Cognizant, which has been filed with the US SEC, Dalal has said, "I hereby represent and warrant to Cognizant that (I) I am entering into this agreement voluntarily and that the performance of my duties and responsibilities hereunder will not violate any agreement between me and any other person, firm, organisation, or other entity."

The letter adds, "(II) I am not bound by the terms of any agreement with any previous employer or other parties to refrain from competing, directly or indirectly, with the business of such previous employer or other party, in any case, that would be violated by my entering into this agreement and/or providing services to Cognizant pursuant to the terms hereof, and (III) I have read, understand and accept the above offer of employment and agree to the terms and conditions set forth above." In the case filed by Wipro, Dalal has submitted an application seeking that the court to refer the matter for arbitration. Both parties have presented their arguments, and the next hearing has been scheduled for January 3.

Dalal worked with Wipro for over 21 years and served as its CFO since 2015.

Govt cracks down on offshore gaming apps

THE BLOCKING OF the overseas gaming websites and platforms in India is in line with this stance. According to the government, while responsibility of paying tax can be passed to online gaming companies located abroad, if they also fail to do so, then, it would amount to transgressing the law. The regulation of foreign platforms will be undertaken through the ministry of electronics and information technology (MeitY).

On December 5, minister of state for finance Pankaj Chaudhary had said that no overseas online gaming company had registered in India since October. Chaudhary had also mentioned that till October, 71 show cause notices involving GST to the tune of ₹1.12 trillion have been issued to online gaming companies during FY23 and FY24 (April-October).

Experts say that measures like blocking of websites/apps are being used by the government to compel the offshore entities to comply with domestic laws.

"The effectiveness of this approach might be contingent on cooperation from platform owners who host these online gaming applications. The government should aim to make these platform owners aware of default and prevent access to apps from companies that do not comply with GST laws," said Ankur Gupta, practice leader — indirect tax at SW India. Sandeep Sehgal, partner — Tax, AKM Global, however notes that some offshore companies may be working on a B2B model, but the GST department could be of the view that the compliance is applicable on those offshore companies as well. Under the B2B model, GST is paid through a reverse charge mechanism by recipient of the online gaming service.

Demand for luxury housing cements realtors' hope

VISWA PRATHAP DESU, chief operating officer — residential, Brigade Enterprises, said, "We anticipate luxury residential sales to be the focal point in 2024, with a growing demand for larger homes in expansive integrated enclaves. Our upcoming launches will primarily align with this trend."

While Brigade will continue to have launches in Bangalore, it is also planning luxury offerings in Chennai and Hyderabad, he said. "Additionally, we are dedicated to enhancing the sustainability quotient in our projects, recognizing its increasing significance in the years to come," Desu said. Swaroop Anish, executive director — business development, Prestige Estates Projects, said they expect prices to strengthen 5-7% for under construction options and ready property even 10-12% as there are shortage of quality options. Anish said they would be enhancing their sales numbers with the numerous launches planned.

BRICS to grow as Saudi, Iran, UAE and 2 others join ranks

New members to be part of January 30 sherpa meeting

ANA MONTEIRO
December 29

MEMBERSHIP OF THE BRICS group of emerging-market nations is set to double, with Saudi Arabia, Iran, the United Arab Emirates, Ethiopia and Egypt to join its ranks on January 1, South Africa's envoy to the bloc said.

The King Abdullah Financial District in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia

Current members Brazil, Russia, India, China and South Africa in August invited six other nations to become part of their group, pairing some of the planet's largest energy producers with some of the biggest consumers among developing countries. Only Argentina declined the invitation after President Javier Milei, who took office this month, reversed his predecessor's membership bid.

The five invitees sent senior-level representatives to a BRICS sherpa meeting in Durban, South Africa, earlier this month and they fully participated in the gathering, "a clear indication that they have accepted the invitation" to join, Anil Sooklal, Pretoria's ambassador to the bloc, said in an interview Friday. The new members will also send officials to a sherpa meeting in Moscow on Jan. 30, he said.

"BRIC" was coined in 2001 by economist Jim O'Neill, then

at Goldman Sachs Group Inc., to draw attention to strong economic growth rates in Brazil, Russia, India and China. The term was intended as an optimistic scenario for investors amid market pessimism following the terrorist attacks in the US on Sept. 11

that year. The group held its first leaders' summit in 2009 and invited South Africa to join a year later, adding another continent and the letter "S."

About 30 countries want to establish ties with the bloc, Russian Foreign Affairs Minister Sergey Lavrov was cited by news agency Tass as saying this week. Nigeria, Africa's most populous nation, will seek to become a member of BRICS within the next two years, Minister of Foreign Affairs Yusuf Tuggar said in November.

Except for India, the BRICS have underperformed their emerging-market peers over the last five years, according to Bloomberg Intelligence. US-led sanctions have put Russia off investors for many foreign investors, and some sectors in China — especially technology companies — have also been sanctioned or face potential investment bans.

Bulls may stay in the ring

WITH THE INTERNATIONAL Monetary Fund terming India as 'one of the star performers' which will contribute more than 16% to global growth, the interest in the Indian economy will only rise.

Sharma points out structurally, India is one of the few countries with sound macros and corporate earnings, while most developed nations continue to be weighed down by weak macros. "And when there are expectations that there will be a bull market in the US, we should also do well," he says.

Of course, there could be some key events that could cloud this optimistic outlook. Naren, for example, says apart from the general election in India, markets will be watching out for the US Fed rate cut trajectory, geopolitical developments and crude oil prices, to name a few. While general elections are always a cause for worry, most experts are reading signals of continuity and stability after the good performance of the Bhartiya Janata Party in the recent state elections. Sharma says while elections are a key event, people would be watching keenly whether the government continues to spend aggressively after elections as well.

While the overall outlook towards 2024 looks quite bright, some fund managers point at the "worrysome" rise in the retail participation in the future and options market. In the past three consecutive years, F&O turnover has risen by over 100% — the highest was in 2021 at 186% — reflecting that there has been aggressive participation from retail investors. This is also reflected in the rise in the number of online courses and influencers who are trying to make a quick buck by exploiting investors. However, most of them also believe that there is little to be done as the markets have to turn their own course.

Notes:-
1. The above financial results have been reviewed by the Audit Committee and approved by the Board of Directors at their respective meetings held on 28 December, 2023. The Statutory Auditors have also carried out a Limited Review of the unaudited results for the quarter and half year ended 30 September, 2023.
2. The above is an extract of the detailed format of the standalone and consolidated Financial Results for the quarter and half year ended 30 September, 2023, filed with the Stock Exchanges under Regulation 33 of the SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015. The full format of the standalone and consolidated Financial Results for the quarter and half year ended 30 September, 2023 are available on the Stock Exchange websites (www.nseindia.com and www.bseindia.com) and Company's website (www.parsvnath.com).
3. The Company has recognised deferred tax assets on its unabsorbed depreciation and business losses carried forward to the extent there is reasonable certainty of its realisation. The Company has executed flat / plot sale agreements with the customers against which the Company has also received advances. Revenue in respect of such sale agreements will get recognised in future years on completion of projects. Based on these sale agreements, the Company has certainty as on the date of the balance sheet, that there will be sufficient taxable income available to realise such assets in the near future. Accordingly, the Company has created deferred tax assets on its carried forward unabsorbed depreciation and business losses. The Company is also planning to sell some of its identified assets.
4. The Company has incurred cash losses during the current and previous periods/year. Due to recession in the past in the real estate sector owing to slowdown in demand, the company faced lack of adequate sources of finance to fund execution and completion of its ongoing projects resulting in delayed realisation from its customers. The company is facing tight liquidity situation as a result of which there have been delays/default in payment to lenders, statutory liabilities, salaries to employees and other dues. However, considering substantial improvement in real estate sector recently, the Management is of the opinion that all such issues will be resolved in due course by required finance through alternate sources, including sale of non-core assets.

Indian, Hong Kong customs unearth money laundering case, says finmin

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, December 29

THE INDIAN AND Hong Kong Customs have unearthed a major case of Trade-Based Money Laundering (TBML) involving Hong Kong-based exporters and Indian importers located in a Special Economic Zone (SEZ), the finance ministry said on Friday. In an exemplary case of bilateral cooperation and exchange of information, this crackdown shows cases investigation and enforcement actions taken by both administrations under their respective laws to expose an international cartel.

DRI had unearthed a case of Trade-Based Money Laundering from a SEZ, wherein cheap synthetic diamonds were being imported into India in the guise of natural diamonds, to remit foreign currency out of India.

Investigations revealed that cheap synthetic diamonds were being mis-declared as natural diamonds and overvalued more than 100 times and being imported from firms based in Hong Kong to SEZ in India.

During the investigation, it was also observed that some real diamonds were imported but replaced with synthetic diamonds and smuggled outside the SEZ, it said.

Investigations also indicated that the inflow of money into importing entity's bank account took place through bank transactions by various dummy firms in India and then the said money was transferred (laundered) from this single bank account to overseas suppliers in Hong Kong; under the pretext of payment towards import of 'diamonds'.

The gathered evidence also indicates that the mastermind of this trade-based money laundering was based in Hong Kong, it added.

In the case filed by Wipro, Dalal has submitted an application seeking that the court to refer the matter for arbitration. Dalal worked with Wipro for over 21 years and served as its CFO since 2015.

Govt cracks down on offshore gaming apps

THE BLOCKING OF the overseas gaming websites and platforms in India is in line with this stance. According to the government, while responsibility of paying tax can be passed to online gaming companies located abroad, if they also fail to do so, then, it would amount to transgressing the law. The regulation of foreign platforms will be undertaken through the ministry of electronics and information technology (MeitY).

On December 5, minister of state for finance Pankaj Chaudhary had said that no overseas online gaming company had registered in India since October. Chaudhary had also mentioned that till October, 71 show cause notices involving GST to the tune of ₹1.12 trillion have been issued to online gaming companies during FY23 and FY24 (April-October).

Experts say that measures like blocking of websites/apps are being used by the government to compel the offshore entities to comply with domestic laws.

"The effectiveness of this approach might be contingent on cooperation from platform owners who host these online gaming applications. The government should aim to make these platform owners aware of default and prevent access to apps from companies that do not comply with GST laws," said Ankur Gupta, practice leader — indirect tax at SW India. Sandeep Sehgal, partner — Tax, AKM Global, however notes that some offshore companies may be working on a B2B model, but the GST department could be of the view that the compliance is applicable on those offshore companies as well. Under the B2B model, GST is paid through a reverse charge mechanism by recipient of the online gaming service.

Demand for luxury housing cements realtors' hope

VISWA PRATHAP DESU, chief operating officer — residential, Brigade Enterprises, said, "We anticipate luxury residential sales to be the focal point in 2024, with a growing demand for larger homes in expansive integrated enclaves. Our upcoming launches will primarily align with this trend."

While Brigade will continue to have launches in Bangalore, it is also planning luxury offerings in Chennai and Hyderabad, he said. "Additionally, we are dedicated to enhancing the

sustainability quotient in our projects, recognizing its increasing significance in the years to come," Desu said.

Swaroop Anish, executive director — business development, Prestige Estates Projects, said they expect prices to strengthen 5-7% for under construction options and ready property even 10-12% as there are shortage of quality options. Anish said they would be enhancing their sales numbers with the numerous launches planned.

BRAZIL'S MILEI DECLINES INVITATION FROM MEMBER COUNTRIES

BRICS to grow as Saudi, Iran, UAE and 2 others join ranks

New members to be part of January 30 sherpa meeting

ANA MONTEIRO December 29

MEMBERSHIP OF THE BRICS group of emerging-market nations is set to double, with Saudi Arabia, Iran, the United Arab Emirates, Ethiopia and Egypt to join its ranks on January 1, South Africa's envoy to the bloc said.

Current members Brazil, Russia, India, China and South Africa in August invited six other nations to become part of their group, pairing some of the planet's largest energy producers with some of the biggest consumers among developing countries. Only Argentina declined the invitation after President Javier Milei, who took office this month, reversed his predecessor's membership bid.

The five invitees sent senior-level representatives to a BRICS sherpa meeting in Durban, South Africa, earlier this month and they fully participated in the gathering, "a clear indication that they have accepted the invitation" to join, Anil Sooklal, Pretoria's ambassador to the bloc, said in an interview Friday. The new members will also send officials to a sherpa meeting in Moscow on Jan. 30, he said.

"BRIC" was coined in 2001 by economist Jim O'Neill, then

at Goldman Sachs Group Inc., to draw attention to strong economic growth rates in Brazil, Russia, India and China. The term was intended as an optimistic scenario for investors amid market pessimism following the terrorist attacks in the US on Sept. 11

that year. The group held its first leaders' summit in 2009 and invited South Africa to join a year later, adding another continent and the letter "S."

About 30 countries want to establish ties with the bloc, Russian Foreign Affairs Minister Sergey Lavrov was cited by news agency Tass as saying this week. Nigeria, Africa's most populous nation, will seek to become a member of BRICS within the next two years, Minister of Foreign Affairs Yusuf Tuggar said in November.

Except for India, the BRICS have underperformed their emerging-market peers over the last five years, according to Bloomberg Intelligence. US-led sanctions have put Russia off limits for many foreign investors, and some sectors in China — especially technology companies — have also been sanctioned or face potential investment bans.

Bulls may stay in the ring

WITH THE INTERNATIONAL Monetary Fund terming India as 'one of the star performers' which will contribute more than 16% to global growth, the interest in the Indian economy will only rise.

Sharma points out structurally, India is one of the few countries with sound macros and corporate earnings, while most developed nations continue to be weighed down by weak macros. "And when there are expectations that there will be a bull market in the US, we should also do well," he says.

Of course, there could be some key events that could cloud this optimistic outlook. Naren, for example, says apart from the general election in India, markets will be watching out for the US Fed rate cut trajectory, geopolitical developments and crude oil prices, to name a few. While general elections are always a cause for worry, most experts are reading signals of continuity and stability after the good performance of the Bhartiya Janata Party in the recent state elections. Sharma says while elections are a key event, people would be watching keenly whether the government continues to spend aggressively after elections as well.

While the overall outlook towards 2024 looks quite bright, some fund managers point at the "worrysome" rise in the retail participation in the future and options market. In the past three consecutive years, F&O turnover has risen by over 100% — the highest was in 2021 at 186% — reflecting that there has been aggressive participation from retail investors. This is also reflected in the rise in the number of online courses and influencers who are trying to make a quick buck by exploiting investors. However, most of them also believe that there is little to be done as the markets have to run their own course.
